(In the space provided below, please explain in detail the reasons for the delay in filing a proper reply.)

We could not pay the issue fee because we did not receive the Notice of Allowance. After filing an Amendment (after non-final rejection) on June 19, 2008, a telephone interview was held with Examiner Colin on September 12, 2008. I discussed claim amendments with Examiner Colin that the Examiner felt should place the claims in condition for allowance. Neither the Examiner's Amendment nor the Notice of Allowance was ever received from the Patent Office. After the telephone communication with the Examiner on September 12, 2008, the applicant's attorney had no reason to believe that correspondence from the U.S.P.T.O. would not be received in the normal course of business. A Revocation/Substitute Power of Attorney and change of Correspondence Address had been filed in 2007. A Notice of Acceptance of Power of Attorney was sent to the correct correspondence address on July 2, 2007.

No communication was received from the Patent Office until the Notice of Abandonment was found and downloaded by applicant's representative during a cursory status check on Private Pair. Although the correct correspondence address is shown on the Notice of Allowance and the Notice of Abandonment, neither document was received by our office.

I am the attorney of record in this case. The Office Communication was not received at the correspondence address of record at the time of mailing. The docketing system used by our firm is sufficiently reliable in that docket entries include application number, attorney docket number, mailing date of the Office Action, and the due date for the response. When we received the Notice of Abandonment, a search of the file jacket and docket records was performed and indicated that the Office Communication was not received. The response to the issue fee payment would have been due on December 22, 2008. A copy of the docket report for that date is included for consideration by the Office of Petitions. The docket report includes all docketed items with due dates on December 22, 2008. The issue fee payment in the presently abandoned application is not on the docket report. The applicant's attorney has redacted certain portions of non-published applications to protect the confidentiality of other clients. However, no information related to the present application is in the docket report and no information related to the present application has been redacted. The applicant requests reconsideration of the Petition and reinstatement of the pending application.
